UNIQUE DECORATIONS FEATURE MOST SUCCESSFUL DANCE HELD LAST NIGHT BY THE COUNCIL

The Building was Beautifully Decorated for the Occasion and the Floor and Music were Excellent

300 DANCERS TREAD THE LIGHT FANTASTIC

For the First Time at a College Dance Favors were Given

The Alma Mater dance last night was thoroughly successful and was enjoyed by all present. The Union was gaily decorated for the occasion and many additional features along decorative lines were specially arranged for the occasion. It is not customary to decorate the big hall of the Union for most dances but for last night's function the Council decided to make a new departure. As a result they had a rainbow display which was a distinct novelty.

The supper was excellently served and the tables were decorated with flowers. All the dancers were also presented with favors. The floor was in excellent condition and the orchestra and musical programme provided were good.

The chaperones who received were as follows, Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. R. W. Reford, Mrs. Moyse, Miss Hurlbatt, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Walton, and Mrs. R. C. Smith and the Committee who have had charge of the arrangements are Mr. M. T. Burke, Mr. S. G. Ross, Mr. A. K. Hugessen, Mr. H. S. Thompson, Mr. St. C. McEvenue, Mr. J. C. Heaton, Mr. H. Dixon, Mr. H. W. Morgan, Mr. W. C. Mitchell, Mr. H. Smith, Mr. A. E. Cameron, Mr. N. Browne.

MCGILL OUTCLASSES TORONTO IN ANNUAL ASSAULT-AT-ARMS

McGill and Queens Stood Even at Midnight with Six More Bouts—Chances for McGills Victory are Very Strong

LOSS OF FENCINGS BRINGS DOWN MCGILL AVERAGE

Midnight came and went before the Intercollegiate boxing, wrestling and fencing meet was completed. For this reason it is impossible to publish here a complete list of the results. It is impossible even to say which team has won the championship. But this much can be gathered from the results that Queens and McGill are running neck and neck, and that Toronto is already outclassed, and has not the faintest hopes. Further than this, McGill has every prospect of winning out, but Queens are still a possibility.

It was in the fencing more than anywhere else that McGill lost. Had the fencing been won, the championship would be assured, not doubtful. In this Crowsell, of Queens beat Wickenson of McGill, and Blair of Varsity beat Lynch of McGill.

In the boxing and wrestling, however, McGill more than held her own, as the following results show.

Bantamweight boxing: Boyes, of Queens, beat Rankin, Toronto. Ewart of McGill, was a bye. Ewart was entered in both the boxing and wrestling. In the next bout which was the wrestling for the same class Ewart beat Roberts of Queens. Roberts was the holder of the title.

In featherweight boxing, Forbes of McGill, beat Clinton of Toronto. Queens were bye. In the same weight wrestling McGill drew bye.

In the 135-pound class, boxing, Maize, McGill, beat Williams, Toronto. In the wrestling, Davies, McGill, in a very brilliant manner, won an easy victory from McGregor, Queens, the holder of the title for his class. His wrestling is described as phenomenal.

In 145-pound boxing, McGill bye, and Scott of Queens, won from Burgess of Toronto. In 145 lb wrestling Ford, McGill lost to Ayles, Toronto. Middleweight boxing, Robb, Queens beat Spencer, McGill. This was the hardest and closest bout of the evening, there being little to choose between the two men.

In the remaining events McGill stands as good a chance as Queens. In the heavyweight wrestling especially, McLean, McGill, should have no trouble in being an easy winner. There was a large audience for the Limstone City, over five hundred being present.

Editorials

We are printing to-day an account of a rather unique prize which has been offered for competition among the students of McGill. The object as expressed by the donor is to encourage the art of reading aloud.

We have often heard it said that good reading is becoming a lost art. Indeed, this is one of the chief charges which is made against the students, and even against all people, of to-day, by men of culture. The tendency in modern life, in reading as in everything else is to go too fast. The first natural fault to slip into, is to mumble over syllables and rush through a sentence.

It is true that among college students there are perhaps few words actually mis-pronounced; but, there are fewer students still, who have the ability to take a passage of Wordsworth or Carlyle and read it so that the full force and meaning is given to every word and phrase. It is not only clear articulation, but correct rhetoric style which will be demanded.

The subject of reading, as commonly understood, is something usually left to the schools to look after; the value and need of just such an offer in the University will, we feel, be clearly shown at the first contest.

Apart from the honor of winning Prof. MacNaughton's prize, the amount is one that few students would decline to accept. We believe that this will prove one of the "Lit's" most popular contests.

In this connection we are glad to note that this year many students have availed themselves of the Mock Parliament, Reford Cup Contest, and other occasions on which they might secure practise in oratory.

The Alma Mater Dance last night brings to a close McGill's social season. The last of the large dances and we fear the last skating party is now a matter of history. The season differed very slightly from those previous, but we are safe in using that much hackneyed phrase, that, "it was much enjoyed by all." The dances were probably a little better conducted than those of former years, but they were not the most noticeable improvement. It is the institution of the skating party and informal dance by the new rink management, that merits the highest praise. It is a number of these affairs, the use of the Campus rink and similar informal functions that serve to make the social life of the University valuable.

Now these are at an end and we are reminded of the approach of examinations. They will occupy much immediate attention until the time arrives for graduation festivities.

Though yesterday marked the close of one series of affairs, it marked the dawn of a new era for the Union. The event which Mr. Shew has long wished for took place in the grill room. A party of Donalds were entertained at afternoon tea. We are not in a position to state whether or not the organizer of this party has applied for a coat sweater or not, but we do not doubt Mr. Shew's willingness to provide it.

We trust that this is but a beginning and that similar parties may become such common occurrences as not to cause the most casual comment.

By the way, why do not the classes in Arts entertain those of the R.V.C. as they did two or three years ago?

EDITORIAL NOTE.

We beg to make a correction in the article appearing yesterday, telling of the King Cook Celebration. We stated that this would be at Strathcona Hall. The building in which the ceremony will take place is the Union.

EVERYBODY DID IT!

Tangos, Trots and Bears

It's a Bear! It's a Bear! It's a Bear!

All the committee's ultimatums, all the reports from other functions failed to help the King's horses and men from putting Humpety-Dumpety back again!

We mean, of course, the Alma Mater last night!

The Sinuous Grizzly Bear, The bewildering Tarantula Walk, The Gaby Glide, The Tango, The Turkey Trot, were staged in the most decorous manner possible.

Beautiful Maidens and Fair Gallants sought to worship at the altars of Terpsichore and were assisted up the aisle by the priests of Lyre. Soft melodious strains emanated from hidden choruses; the refrains were taken up and oft repeated. But, lo! the committee was conspicuous by their non-appearance!

What did it all mean?
Those who know best can tell best.
Ask them!

R. V. C.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Society was well represented at an informal tea given yesterday in the Union, by Miss Hugesson, who was assisted by a bevy of beautiful young girls.

Miss D. Uff tastefully attired in a frappe de creme de mous, cut the ices. Miss Tee R. App, in a beautiful example of Turkish lace, old gold and mauve, together with Miss Lav Lis, who wore her famous jewels, bound around a green corsage, poured tea. Miss Pourhard, in a stunning black and white costume of eau de cologne des Leghorne, assisted in receiving the guests, while the Misses Tay Ler and Ar Cumming, in a tea-gown by Pinaud of scarlet and white Vincennes Muslin and a wondrous filmy creation of Sacke de asheclothe respectfully, cut the cake.

Altogether, it was a most successful little affair, and it is rumored that the Premiere Danseuse de Grill has already surrendered the fine example of down-and-out-cross-check-stitched bug me tight that had been hung up on approval.

THE NEW YORK BOARD ALLOWS MCGILL MEN TO TRY EXAMINATION

Restriction on McGill Medical Men Removed

The conference of representatives of this University and of the New York State Board, which took place last week, was successful in again placing McGill on the list of those colleges, whose graduates in medicine are permitted to take the Board's examination.

Mr. Nicholson, the University Registrar when interviewed by telephone, gave a brief account of the whole affair, as follows:

About six months ago the New York State Board made a change in its requirements for admission to practice. These requirements fall into two general classes—college matriculation requirements, and qualifications necessary for the degree.

McGill, of course, satisfied the latter requirements, but in the matter of matriculation, McGill did not require biology for entrance, whereas the New York State Board did require it.

Before this could be remedied, the Board dropped McGill and several colleges in the States from its list, and as a result, our graduates in medicine were barred.

Last week, two representatives from the Board, one of whom was Dr. Augustus Darling, met McGill representatives and after going into the matter thoroughly, made certain recommendations to the Faculty, and reported results to the Board.

As a result of this conference, the taking into consideration McGill's five-year course, the fact that a four-year course satisfies the State requirements, and also the fact that it would be a difficult matter to equip many preparatory schools to teach biology, the Board decided to accept McGill's first year course in biology as equivalent to matriculation biology.

This decision, therefore, once more puts McGill on the list of the New York Board, satisfies those McGill students who intend to practice in New York, and, what is more important, raises McGill to her former high standing in the medical world.

THE FACULTY FLIERS LATEST HOCKEY TEAM AT THE UNIVERSITY

Stellar Aggregation Ready to Meet all Comers

A new hockey team has been organized at the University. Stirred by the accounts of the thrilling contests about to take place between the Unpronounceables and the Slide Rule Slips, they have selected a team and thrown down the gauntlet to all and sundry. A match will in all probability be arranged between the newcomers to the sporting arena and the miner's septette.

The new team have modestly styled themselves the "Faculty Fliers." They believe implicitly in the six man game and will only consent to play under six man rule. The team consists chiefly of members of the staff of the Science Faculty.

The line up is as follows:—Goal, Reid; Point, Sallman; C. Point, Millican; Centre, Palmer, L. Wing, Sargent; R. Wing, Kelly.

Professor McLeod has kindly consented to act as time-keeper for the sextette in question.

SENIORS CONSIDER POSSIBLE SUCCESS OF PAPER FOR GRADS

Final Adoption of Plan Left to Class Meetings

At a meeting of the Senior year held yesterday afternoon in Strathcona Hall, it was decided to adopt the report of the Memorial Committee as published in the Daily. This calls for the establishment of an alumnæ publication, to be founded by the Class of 1913, and to find its circulation among the graduates.

Owing to the fact that the meeting was not very well attended, it was decided to send the report to the various classes for final ratification before proceeding with the plan. This step was taken because it was felt that the plan was a large one, and possessed many difficulties. The general feeling was that it would be very unwise to adopt the plan unless every man in the graduating class was prepared to stand behind it. So, though those present favored it, a further ratification was decided upon.

INTERVIEW ON CABS, FLOWERS, POLITICS AND OTHER THINGS

Mr. Ritchie of Toronto University is in Montreal at Present

Mr. Ritchie, the President of the Science Undergraduates Society at Toronto University, who represented this organization, of which he is the official head, at last night's Alma Mater Dance was interviewed yesterday afternoon and asked a number of questions respecting Varsity politics, dances and co-eds.

When asked for his opinion regarding the introduction of party politics at Toronto University, Mr. Ritchie was very conservative in his reply. "Many people," he said, "hold the opinion that it is undesirable because Toronto is a State University. In addition to this, the city papers magnify and distort occurrences in student politics."

At this juncture the Society editor interjected a question as to whether or not Turkey Trotting was allowed at Toronto University. "No," said Mr. Ritchie with a smile, "all such dances are tabooed."

"Will the action of the Varsity co-eds in refusing flowers and cabs be a popular or successful move?" asked a Daily representative.

"I think not," answered Mr. Ritchie. "Conditions in Toronto are very different from those in Kingston. Distances are greater and in many cases cabs are essential."

Mr. Ritchie will, in all probability, return to Toronto tomorrow night.

NEW YORK STUDENTS GIVEN FINE CHANCE FOR FOREIGN TRAVEL

Unique Course Offered to Upper-Classmen

New York University has announced what is probably the latest idea in college courses in a travel school for the summer months. The purpose of the course is to offer students of higher economics, commerce, finance, and sociology an opportunity to study conditions both in America and foreign countries.

Two months before the date of sailing, bibliographies will be sent to prospective students, suggesting reading in helpful books. Informal conferences will be held on the ships but there will be no formal lecture during the tour. Places of interest will be visited, and in each city a local expert will be employed to assist the leaders. In every large city at least one dinner will be given to enable the students to meet the leaders in various movements.

Three courses for the summer of 1913 will be offered. The class in European commerce and industry will study problems in transportation, advertising, accounting practices, and other questions of industrial organizations. The class in labor problems and industrial betterment will investigate state insurance, labor exchanges, courts for the settlement of industrial disputes, accident prevention, and industrial hygiene. The class in social problems will consider such subjects as city planning, housing, garden cities, charities and philanthropy, and penal and vagrant colonies.—Michigan Daily.

Father, mother and two sons have entered a Washington College. Sort of a family event, informal of course.

NEARLY $227,000 ALREADY RAISED FOR WESLEYAN COLLEGE

Returns Incomplete as Yet—Many More to Come

The Wesleyan College's campaign, which is now in progress, for a new building, is meeting with remarkable success, as already a sum of approximately $227,000 and over has been raised.

The proposed new building for the College, now seems to be a certainty, as the sum required for its erection is estimated at between $250,000 and $300,000, and the campaign has already nearly raised the first amount. The money raised to date represents merely the local results as it were, as there are many places yet to be heard from, among which are Toronto, Ottawa and Kingston, any one of which should boost the fund over, or at least up to, the amount required.

The above returns do not include many of the graduates, as yet. It is very probable that a fair-sized amount will be raised from them, as

FAMOUS HOCKEY TEAM TO VISIT ST. ANNES SATURDAY MARCH 1ST

Game with McDonald College Arranged for

The Slide Rule Slips, tired, no doubt, of trying to get someone around here to play them, have sent a challenge to the Macdonald College septette, and are going to St. Annes a week from today.

The line-up of the calculators has been kept very much in the dark and it is very hard to find out their identities, but they must have somebody worth while, or else they wouldn't contemplate the above trip.

It is understood also that the Rectilineal Parallelopipedons, though they could not raise a team the other day, are still anxious to play, and it is quite likely that another game will be played.

ORPHEUM WILL HAVE GOOD BILL.

"Zilla" La Tzigane, the gypsy, is the tale of a famous young American painter, who fell in love with a gypsy girl model while he was studying in Paris, his jealousy and unwarranted accusation, their quarrel and the effects of a year of abstinence drinking are woven into the strongest dramatic art seen in this city for some time. It is from the original French play by Maurice de Marcey. The title role will be taken by Mabelle Adams assisted by a talented company who will appear at the Orpheum Theatre next week as the headliners on a programme well up to the standard set by Manager Driscoll. Two car loads of special typical French scenery, on which no expense has been spared as well as some lighting effects that are unsurpassed will be necessary for the production; Clown Zertho and his well trained and clever dogs will provide a good deal of mirth for the children as well as grown ups. This is an act that all lovers of animals should see; The welcome return of the favorites The Empire Comedy Four will be a feature of the bill. They are one of the oldest quartettes in vaudeville, the combination having been together for fifteen years. During which time they appeared in almost every country of the world and have given several "Command" performances before royalty. Joe Jenny's portrayal of an eccentric little German is a funny creation and a hit everywhere. The other three characters appear as the "dude", the tragedian, and the comedian. Their comedy is full of surprises and their voices are good and in perfect harmony; Billy "Swede" Hall and his company will present the laughable comedy sketch "Made Good"; The Kemps are two clever colored entertainers of which very few remain in vaudeville; Berg Brothers are clever cyclists who ride with the greatest ease every conceivable form of unicycle, bicycle and triocycle. They are also inventors of some freak machines. Altogether their work is very skillful but it is as cycling comedians that the Berg Brothers lay their real claim. The Berg Brothers just arrived in America following a continental tour which included all the principal foreign halls.

MCGILL'S ARCHITECTS ENTER COMPETITION WITH OTHER COLLEGES

Problem of Library Design to be Worked Out

This is the first year that McGill has entered the Intercollegiate Competition in Architecture, which is now in progress. Last Monday the problem, which calls for the design of a college library, was submitted to the contestants at 1 p.m. and a time limit of eight hours assigned. It is unnecessary to state that a grind of such long duration requires of the student no little amount of stamina and the result was that one of the six McGill competitors was forced to leave his work. They will be allowed until March 19th to finish their drawings, however, at which time the best ten or twelve will be entered for final judgment. The McGill entries are: W. C. Hyde, O. Barwick, W. D. McLennan, F. H. Wilkes, A. Harrison and F. Lawson.

The library, specifications of which are prepared by James Otis Post, a well-known New York architect, is to be 75 feet by 150 feet, situated

MOST RECENT PRIZE OFFERED STUDENTS IN READING CONTEST

Twenty-five Dollars per Year Given for Clear Articulation

The information that another contest is to be instituted among the undergraduates of literary tastes was made public yesterday at the Principal's office. The contest is for reading passages from the English classics.

The prize is of the annual value of twenty-five dollars and is given by an old classical scholar of McGill, Prof. MacNaughton, of the University of British Columbia.

The contestants must read two or three short selected passages. A particular provision is that the judges are to sit in the rear of the room. This prize will not be ready for competition until next year. The management of the contest has been entrusted to the Literary and Debating Society.

Just within the principal entrance to the grounds of an important group of college buildings, and is planned to hold 335,000 books. The other college buildings are assumed to be either of some Gothic or Classic style of architecture. The University of Pennsylvania, which won last year's competition, has again entered, as well as Cornell, Harvard, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Syracuse.

The prize amounts, for the best drawing submitted, to ninety-dollars for the second one, to sixty dollars.

MACDONALD COLLEGE MONTHLY MAGAZINE MERITS DISTINCTION

Students at St. Anne's Produce Creditable Publication

Ever since the college was founded, the Macdonald College Magazine has been meeting with more and more success. Each month sees about a thousand copies in the hands of students and graduates. The Magazine is exceedingly comprehensive in its scope. The respective departments of student activity are in the hands of capable editors who are responsible for articles on subjects connected with the work in their own particular courses. A social column dealing with announcements and reports of receptions, dances and other attractions is also a feature.

The publication of such a magazine is quite a venture, in that those in charge have to lose a great deal of time travelling to and from the Gazette office in the City, where the Magazine is printed. Further difficulty results from the fact that many articles are contributed by district representatives in the province and these have to be collected and edited. The graduates of the college are in the main subscribers and contribute much to the success of the magazine. As the college develops, this venture will undoubtedly meet with still greater encouragement. Much credit is due to those on the staff who sacrifice much of their valuable time in order that success of the publication may be assured.
